

Invasive Ornamental Plants

The below list consists of high-threat plants that statewide Go Beyond Beauty participants have agreed to remove from sale/stop using (including cultivars)

Japanese barberry
Berberis thunbergii

Invasive bittersweet
Celastrus orbiculatus

Glossy buckthorn
Frangula alnus/Rhamnus frangula

Baby's breath
Gypsophila paniculata

Dame's rocket
Hesperis matronalis

Blue lyme grass
Leymus arenarius

Non-native bush Honeysuckles
Lonicera tatarica et al.

Japanese honeysuckle
Lonicera japonica

Moneywort/Creeping Jenny
Lysimachia nummularia

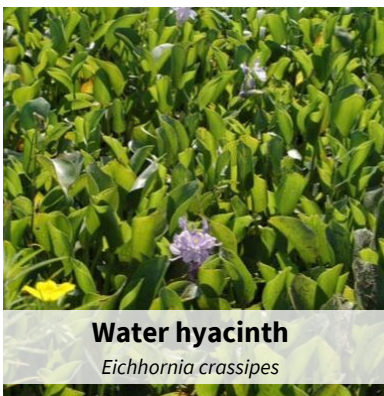

Ribbon grass/reed canary grass
Phalaris arundinacea

Common buckthorn
Rhamnus cathartica

Callery/Bradford/Cleveland pear
Pyrus calleryana

Water hyacinth
Eichhornia crassipes

Water lettuce
Pistia stratiotes

Go Beyond Beauty celebrates garden professionals, at no cost to them, (nurseries, growers, and landscapers) who commit to not selling or using high-priority invasive species. Other participants include garden clubs, private businesses, and individuals who are dedicated to the same mission.

Please keep in mind, depending on your region, this list may vary slightly and contain additional species to remove from sale and use. More information can be found at: